had been eaten by a _____.

10. What were the Ladies, and why were they of special interest to Black Stache?

Good to Know

Black Stache refers to his prisoner as a scurvy dog. Scurvy was a disease which afflicted many seamen of this time. It was caused by a lack of vitamin C and characterized by spongy gums, loosening of the teeth, and a bleeding into the skin and mucous membranes.

B. Choose ten words from these chapters with two or more syllables. Indicate the syllables by drawing a line between each syllable. Example: good / bye.

C. Personification is giving human qualities to something that is not human. In Chapter Four when describing the ship, the Wasp, Black Stache says, “So she thinks she can sting us, does she?” In this sentence the Wasp is given human characteristics (the ship is referred to as “she” and may also be capable of stinging).

a) Why do you think personification is a literary device used by many authors?

b) Create your own example of personification.

c) If you find another example of Personification later in the novel, come back to this question and enter it below.

D. The Quatrain Poem.

The quatrain is a popular form of rhymed verse. It is a poem of four lines, is usually light and can be humorous. The following quatrain is the first four lines from a poem called A Pirate I Be, written by the famous poet, Atrocious Halitosis.

*A pirate I be, ye survey dogs,
I've sailed the seas since I was two.
I bow to none, 'cept Captain Flint,
I'm the meanest of his crew.*

Various rhyming schemes make up a quatrain poem. As you can see, the above four lines have a rhyming scheme of A - B - C - B. Other rhyming schemes include: ABAB, AAAA, AABA, ABBA, ABBA, and AAAB.

Your task is to write your own quatrain poem. You may choose a rhyming scheme that fits with your own personal creation. The theme should have something to do with the themes established in the first four chapters of our novel.

The Quatrain Poem

Now create your own Quatrain Poem. Your poem must follow the format of a quatrain poem described above (and must rhyme).
